Integrating Conservation Biology and Paleobiology to Manage Biodiversity and Ecosystems in a Changing World G. Lynn Wingard,Chris Schneider,Gregory P. Dietl ,Damien Fordham, Policy makers and resource managers must make decisions that affect the resilience and sustainability of natural resources including biodiversity and ecosystem services However these decisions are often based on evidence or theory derived from highly altered systems and over short time periods of low magnitude environmental and climatic change Because natural systems change and evolve across multiple timescales from instantaneous to millennial long term understanding of how past life has responded to perturbations can inform resource managers By using these natural laboratories of the past conservation paleobiology and paleoecology provide the framework necessary to anticipate and plan for future changes The goal of this Research Topic is to heighten awareness among conservation and restoration practitioners to the value and applications of long term perspectives provided by conservation paleobiology and paleoecology Most conservation studies focus on systems already impacted by anthropogenic change these studies would benefit from paleontological data through expanded temporal scales identification of baselines and an understanding of how organisms have responded to past changes However resource management decisions rarely include input from paleontologists and paleoecological research is rarely incorporated into conservation decision making We seek to bridge this research implementation gap by highlighting the application of paleoecological data to issues such as biodiversity dynamics extinction risks and resilience to perturbations among other topics We hope to foster new cross disciplinary synergies by encouraging conservation scientists and managers to collaborate with paleontologists to improve conservation decision making and by increasing awareness among paleontologists to the needs of the resource management community This Research Topic will provide a forum for both the paleontological and resource management communities to exchange ideas that will enhance restoration and conservation decision making We invite papers on conceptual advances reviews of specific topics to guide efforts in research or practice case studies of successful applications articles describing datasets with applied value and perspective papers summarizing a body of paleontological research with relevance to the resource management community Topics can include but are not limited to Responses of species communities and ecosystems to perturbations Strategies to achieve the direct integration of paleobiology and paleoecology into on ground resource management Identifying baselines and reference conditions Increasing the robustness of forecasting models through the incorporation of paleontological data Identifying key species interactions and other phenomena as indicators of impending change New methodologies analytical tools and or proxies in the application of paleontological data to conservation and restoration practice Lynn Wingard Damien Fordham and Greg Dietl have no conflicts of interest Chris Schneider has a potential conflict of interest where manuscripts pertain to stakeholders in the petroleum industry as she is an independent contractor in the Alberta Oil Sands mining area Microsoft Dynamics CRM 2011 Reporting Damian Sinay,2013-01-01 The book is a focused and step by step tutorial on Microsoft Dynamics CRM Reporting capabilities It will enable Dynamics developers to create and manage reports know what tools to use how to use them and where to find the data based on how it s being entered into the system with Dynamics CRM This book is great for users and developers new to the Dynamics CRM Reports and SQL Server Reporting services and who are looking to get a good grounding in how to use the reporting capabilities of Dynamics CRM 2011 It s assumed that you will have some experience in HTML and JavaScript already to build the advanced reports but no previous programming experience is required to build and learn how to create some basic to intermediate reports which will be used during the exercises within this book Working with Microsoft Dynamics CRM 2011 Mike Snyder,Jim Steger,Kristie Reid,2011-04-15 Configure adapt and extend Microsoft Dynamics CRM 2011 guided by two of the leading implementation specialists in the field Whether you re an IT professional a developer or a power user you ll get pragmatic hands on insights for customizing CRM in your organization with or without programming Discover how to Set up and configure your system Plan and configure security settings and information access Easily customize form attributes views and relationships Create and deploy custom reports Use xRM to quickly create and efficiently manage line of business applications Automate business workflows Extend Microsoft Dynamics CRM with scripts and assemblies
