Crowther, 2005-07-19 PREFACE The Joint FAO IAEA Division of Nuclear Techniques in Food and Agriculture is involved in agricultural research and development and assists Member States of FAO and IAEA in improving strategies to ensure food security through the use of nuclear techniques and related biotechnologies where such techniques have a valuable and often unique role In particular molecular diagnostic methods have rapidly evolved in the past twenty years since the advent of the Polymerase Chain Reaction PCR They are used in a wide range of agricultural areas such as improving soil and water management producing better crop varieties diagnosing plant and animal diseases controlling insect pests and improving food quality and safety The uses of nucleic acid directed methods have increased significantly in the past five years and have made important contributions to disease control country programmes for improving national and international trade These developments include the more routine use of PCR as a diagnostic tool in veterinary diagnostic laboratories However there are many problems associated with the transfer and particularly the application of this technology These include lack of consideration of the establishment of quality assured procedures the required set up of the laboratory and the proper training of staff This can lead to a situation where results are not assured This book gives a comprehensive account of the practical aspects of PCR and strong consideration is given to ensure its optimal use in a laboratory environment This includes the setting up of a PCR laboratory Good Laboratory Practice and standardised of PCR protocols

Introduction to Polymer Chemistry Judit E. Puskas, Ph.D, 2013-11-18 Fundamental concepts and reactions explained through polymers from plants and animals Macromolecular structures introduced via biological polymers Includes a course syllabus study questions and exercises Extensive lab guidance and protocols for DNA isolation amplification using PCR Full color figures shown throughout the text This book connects modern synthetic polymer chemistry to its roots by exploring the chemistry of natural polymers and self assembled macromolecular structures Designed to introduce students to the basics of polymer science the text investigates intermolecular forces functional groups and key reactions by means of polymers found in and produced by living plants and animals including proteins rubber DNA fibers lignin carbohydrates and many others The author explains how varied natural polymeric systems illustrate a wide array of fundamental polymer concepts Key analogies are demonstrated between mechanisms in biological and synthetic polymerization and the text uses growth DNA replication self assembly and other biological processes to assist the student in mastering the terminology and molecular level mechanisms of polymer chemistry To guide both instructors and students the book includes the outline of a one semester course syllabus end of chapter questions as well as detailed instructions for setting up multiple labs dealing with gene isolation and amplification using polymerase chain reaction techniques PCR Each chapter also offers exercises based on real world examples
