Dwelling Places Postwar Black British Writing:

Dwelling Places James Procter, 2003 Extending geographically from London to Glasgow James Procter's study explores black literary and cultural production across the post World War Two period The author considers how places like dwellings bedsits and public spaces contribute to the travelling theories of diaspora discourse Dwelling Places: Postwar Black British Writing , The Cambridge Companion to British Black and Asian Literature (1945-2010) Deirdre Osborne, 2016-10-19 Post World War II mass migration to Great Britain altered its demographic composition more markedly than in any other period in its history resulting in a modern multicultural nation state shaped by the ethnic diversity of its citizenry Populations from African Caribbean and South Asian locations arriving in Britain post war brought diasporic sensibilities and literary heritages that have profoundly transformed British national culture leading to a more complex and inclusive sense of its past The Companion to British Black and Asian Literature 1945-2010 examines the creative impact of this rich infusion upon English literature against the backdrop of the seismic social and economic changes triggered by colonialism and migration multiculturalism and contemporary globalization Diasporic Identities and Empire David Brooks, Anastasia Louridas, 2014-01-03 Diasporic Identities and Empire Cultural Contentions and Literary Landscapes explores traditional theories on hybridity generated in consideration of multicultural infusions and at times profusions of colonial migrations Arguments on defining Englishness and the insinuations of a fixed centre for the marginalised are now considered on a global scale as postmodernity defies imperial homogeneity Although postcolonial studies have largely been Anglocentric and Western in focus developments elsewhere have opened up theoretical applications on cultural shifters such as that of the diaspora The Arabian world the Caribbean North and Latin America Australia and more recently countries such as Ireland and Scotland have emerged as regions confronted with comparable power struggles Mass migration exile refugee reshuffling and diasporic repositioning provide neo hermeneutics on the predicament of the global which is undergoing major geopolitical and cultural transformation This volume addresses how writing from the peripheries is developing a new worldview through diasporic modes of thought By moving beyond the facile search for an imperial centre these contributions provide an understanding of the rupture in identity since there is a feeling of being held back from a place or state we wish to reach Brooks This volume is a unique collaboration by academic scholars from four different continents and a vast number of regions critically converging on the contemporaneous debate that problematizes the diasporic identity Dwelling Places James Procter, 2003 Explores some of the key venues of black British literary and cultural production across the postwar period bedsits and basements streets and cafes train stations and tourist landscapes the suburbs and the city the north and south Pursues a devolving landscape in order to consider what an analysis of dwelling might contribute to the travelling theories of diaspora discourse and asks what happens when we situate literatures of movement and migration Offers fresh readings of work by some of the key literary figures of the postwar years for example Salman Rushdie Hanif Kureishi Meera

Syal Linton Kwesi Johnson Contextualises writings alongside photography painting and film to consider their relationship to broader shifts in the politics of black representation over the past fifty years Offers sustained analysis of many of the texts reproduced in Procter's anthology Writing black Britain 1948-98 MUP 2000 making an ideal companion to the earlier book

The 1960s Philip Tew, James Riley, Melanie Seddon, 2018-07-26 How did social cultural and political events in Britain during and leading up to the 1960s shape modern British fiction The 1960s were the swinging decade a newly energised youth culture went hand in hand with new technologies expanding educational opportunities new social attitudes and profound political differences between the generations This volume explores the ways in which these apparently seismic changes were reflected in British fiction of the decade Chapters cover feminist writing that fused the personal and the political gay lesbian and immigrant voices and the work of visionary experimental and science fiction writers A major critical re-evaluation of the decade this volume covers such writers as J G Ballard Anthony Burgess A S Byatt Angela Carter John Fowles Christopher Isherwood Doris Lessing Michael Moorcock and V S Naipaul

The Cultural Memory of Africa in African American and Black British Fiction, 1970-2000 Leila Kamali, 2016-12-10 This book offers a new approach to reading the cultural memory of Africa in African American fiction from the post Civil Rights era and in Black British fiction emerging in the wake of Thatcherism The critical period between the decline of the Civil Rights Movement and the dawn of the twenty first century saw a deep contrast in the distinctive narrative approaches displayed by diverse African diaspora literatures in negotiating the crisis of representing the past Through a series of close readings of literary fiction this work examines how the cultural memory of Africa is employed in diverse and specific negotiations of narrative time in order to engage and shape contemporary identity and citizenship By addressing the practice of remembering Africa the book argues for the signal importance of the African diaspora's literary interventions and locates new paradigms for cultural identity in contemporary times

The Oxford Companion to Black British History David Dabydeen, John Gilmore, Cecily Jones, 2010-04-22 The first ever reference work to explore the full history of black people in Britain this Companion is an essential resource for anyone who wants to understand this long and fascinating history from classical times to the present day It brings together a unique collection of articles more than 400 entries written by more than 100 specialists that provide an overview of the black presence in Britain and the rich and diverse contribution made to British society The A Z guide includes entries for landmark figures key events concepts such as Emancipation and Reparations and historical accounts Subject areas include medicine military history art music sports and education The Companion includes a detailed timeline that charts key dates for people and events from the 2nd century AD to the present The guide will be of tremendous interest to those interested in virtually any subject relating to the Black British community or anyone interested in finding out about the history of expatriated Africans outside the Americas

Black British Literature Mark Stein, 2004 In this fascinating book Mark Stein examines black British literature centering on a body of work created by British based writers with African

South Asian or Caribbean cultural backgrounds Linking black British literature to the bildungsroman genre this study examines the transformative potential inscribed in and induced by a heterogeneous body of texts Capitalizing on their plural cultural attachments these texts portray and purvey the transformation of post imperial Britain Stein locates his wide ranging analysis in both a historical and a literary context He argues that a cross cultural and interdisciplinary approach is essential to understanding post colonial culture and society The book relates black British literature to ongoing debates about cultural diversity and thereby offers a way of reading a highly popular but as yet relatively uncharted field of cultural production With the collapse of its empire with large scale immigration from former colonies and with ever increasing cultural diversity Britain underwent a fundamental makeover in the second half of the twentieth century This volume cogently argues that black British literature is not only a commentator on and a reflector of this makeover but that it is simultaneously an agent that is integral to the processes of cultural and social change Conceptualizing the novel of transformation this comprehensive study of British black literature provides a compelling analytic framework for charting these processes
