survey and focus group data the author examines how social interaction feelings of identification with members of their own group and others and individuals sense of power as established by their racial economic and political surroundings impact interracial attitudes Her findings like the complex racial dynamics she studies are not easily reducible to simple formulae yet they have strong implications for the formation of interracial coalitions For example even if social contact generally decreases racial and ethnic hostility the disadvantaged status of Latinos and blacks tends to impede cooperation and ramp up rivalry leaving members of both groups more inclined to form coalitions with whites than with each other Yet contextual factors in particular jurisdictions such as the availability of quality education and higher wages overall can mitigate antagonism and increase the likelihood of cooperation Ultimately Partners or Rivals provides a timely account of contemporary race relations and the prospects for interracial and interethnic cooperation pinpointing the sometimes surprising factors that have a realistic chance of improving those prospects
