Taggart, Alfred P. Wilson, 2005-05-11 This expanded bestseller integrates the latest research and technology with tried and true methods for strengthening practitioners problem solving and decision making skills Conceptualising Reflection In Teacher Development James Calderhead, Peter Gates, 2003-09-02 Reflection has become widely recognised as a crucial element in the professional growth of teachers Terms such as reflective teaching enquiry orientated teacher education teachers as researchers and reflective practitioner have become quite prolific in discussions of classroom practice and professional development It is frequently presumed that reflection is an intrinsically good and desirable aspect of teaching and teacher education and that teachers in becoming more reflective will in some sense be better teachers though such claims have been rarely subject to detailed scrutiny Each of the chapters in this book is concerned with exploring the concept of reflection and considering its contributions to teacher education The papers range across different stages of professional development some focusing in particular on pre service education others on in service or professional development generally Some of the papers are concerned with particular strategies for promoting reflection and how they might operate in a teacher education context others dwell more upon a theoretical appreciation of how reflection facilitates in the processes of professional development and how it relates to issues of quality in teacher education Teachers And Teaching Hugh Munby, 2004-08-02 The intention of this book is to develop an increased awareness of the place of professional practice in the realms of research in teaching. The chapters investigate from an international perspective the emerging reflective methods of collaboration between practitioners and researchers' appreciation of teachers and teaching and greater understanding of what they aim to promote. Teacher Education: Professionalism, social justice and teacher education David Hartley, Maurice Whitehead, 2006. Learning and Teaching Together Michele TD Tanaka, 2016-11-15 Across Canada new curriculum initiatives require teachers to introduce students to Aboriginal content. In response many teachers unfamiliar with Aboriginal approaches to learning and teaching are seeking ways to respectfully weave this material into their lessons. Learning and Teaching Together introduces teachers of all levels to an indigenist approach to education. Tanaka recounts how pre-service teachers enrolled in a crosscultural course in British Columbia immersed themselves in indigenous ways of knowing as they worked alongside indigenous wisdom keepers. Transforming cedar bark, buckskin and wool into a mural that tells stories about the land upon which the course took place, they discovered new ways of learning that support not only intellectual but also tactile, emotional and spiritual forms of knowledge. By sharing how one group of non-indigenous teachers learned to privilege indigenous ways of knowing in the classroom, Tanaka opens a path for teachers to nurture indigenist crosscultural understanding in their own classrooms. The Social Construction of Reflective Practice Kristine M. Mickelson, 2002.

International Encyclopedia of Education, 2009-04-17. The field of education has experienced extraordinary technological, societal and institutional change in recent years, making it one of the most fascinating yet complex fields of study in social science. Unequalled in its combination of authoritative scholarship and comprehensive coverage, International Encyclopedia of Education Third Edition succeeds two highly successful previous editions (1985, 1994) in aiming to encapsulate research in this vibrant field for the twenty-first century reader. Under development for five years, this work encompasses over 1,000 articles across 24 individual areas of coverage and is expected to become the dominant resource in the field. Education is a multidisciplinary and international field drawing on a wide range of social sciences and humanities disciplines, and this new edition comprehensively matches this diversity. The diverse background and multidisciplinary subject coverage of the Editorial Board ensure a balanced and objective academic framework with 1,500 contributors representing over 100 countries capturing a complete portrait of this evolving field. A totally new work revamped with a wholly new editorial board structure and brand new list of meta-sections and articles. Developed by an international panel of editors and authors drawn from senior academia. Web-enhanced with supplementary multimedia audio and video files hotlinked to relevant references and sources for further study. Incorporates ca. 1,350 articles with timely coverage of such topics as technology and learning, demography and social change, globalization and adult learning, to name a few. Offers two content delivery options: print and online, the latter of which provides anytime, anywhere access for multiple users and superior search functionality via ScienceDirect as well as multimedia content including audio and video files.
