Twentieth-Century British and American Literature Lawrence Normand, Alison Winch, 2013-10-24 Encountering Buddhism in Twentieth Century British and American Literature explores the ways in which 20th century literature has been influenced by Buddhism and has been in turn a major factor in bringing about Buddhism's increasing spread and influence in the West Focussing on Britain and the United States Buddhism's influence on a range of key literary texts will be examined in the context of those societies evolving modernity Writers discussed include T S Eliot Hermann Hesse Virginia Woolf Jack Kerouac Allen Ginsberg J D Salinger Iris Murdoch Maxine Hong Kingston This book brings together for the first time a series of context rich interpretations that demonstrate the importance of literature in this ongoing cultural change in Britain and the United States

Mindfulness and Learning Terry Hyland, 2011-08-21 In recent decades education at all levels has been seriously impoverished by a growing obsession with standards targets skills and competences According to this model only a circumscribed range of basic cognitive skills and competences are the business of education whose main role is to provide employability credentials for people competing for jobs in the global economy The result is a one dimensional economic and bleakly utilitarian conception of the educational task In Mindfulness and Learning Celebrating the Affective Dimension of Education Terry Hyland advances the thesis that education stands in need of a rejuvenation of its affective function the impact it has on the emotional social moral and personal development of learners Drawing on the Buddhist conception of mindfulness he advances a powerful argument for redressing this imbalance by enhancing the affective domain of learning Mindfulness and Learning Celebrating the Affective Dimension of Education shows how the concept and practice of mindfulness non judgmental present moment awareness and experience can enrich learning at all levels Mindfulness thus contributes to the enhanced achievement of general educational goals and helps remedy the gross deficiency of the affective emotional aspects of contemporary theory and practice The author outlines a mindfulness based affective education MBAE programme and shows how it might be introduced into educational provision from the early years to adult education with a view to harmonising the cognitive affective balance across the system

Women and Buddhist Philosophy Jin Y.

Park, 2017-02-28 Why and how do women engage with Buddhism and philosophy The present volume aims to answer these questions by examining the life and philosophy of a Korean Zen Buddhist nun Kim Iry p 1896 1971 The daughter of a pastor Iry p began questioning Christian doctrine as a teenager In a few years she became increasingly involved in women's movements in Korea speaking against society's control of female sexuality and demanding sexual freedom and free divorce for women While in her late twenties an existential turn in her thinking led Iry p to Buddhism she eventually joined a monastery and went on to become a leading figure in the female monastic community until her death After taking the tonsure Iry p followed the advice of her teacher and stopped publishing for more than two decades She returned to the world of letters in her sixties using her strong distinctive voice to address fundamental questions on the scope of identity the meaning of being human and the value of existence In her writing she frequently adopted an autobiographical style that combined her experiences with Buddhist teachings Through a close analysis of Iry p's story Buddhist philosophy and practice in connection with East Asian new women's movements and continental philosophy this volume offers a creative interpretation of Buddhism as both a philosophy and a religion actively engaged with lives as they are lived It presents a fascinating narrative on how women connect with the world whether through social issues such as gender inequality a Buddhist worldview or existential debates on human existence and provides readers with a new way of philosophizing that is transformative and deeply connected with everyday life Women and Buddhist Philosophy Engaging Zen Master Kim Iry p will be of primary interest to

Traditions & Encounters Jerry H. Bentley, 2003 Encounters, Materialities, Confrontations Per Cornell, Fredrik Fahlander, 2007 This collection of texts is a first step towards providing a theoretical and methodological platform for the study of social encounters The social encounter is a particular sort of concept focusing on confusion tension trauma and possibly social change that may emerge in situations of contact when people and things interact A social encounter is however not only about negotiation or contemplating existence but is rather about what happens when people interact actively when they involve themselves with people and materialities when they move around fetch things use things leave things etc The repeated social encounter is often a confrontation with something such as an opinion a performance or with materialities and the effects are often unpredictable Encounters may reproduce a social pattern but also contain potential for transformation and change Such varied responses to encounters will certainly have effects on the archaeological record The primary focus of the volume is the effects and processes involved in intra and inter societal encounters The collection hence fills a theoretical and methodological gap in the study of the encounter in archaeology There is a need for elaborating aspects of postcolonial theory in order to develop new ways of approaching the archaeological record The articles of this volume include examples from various regions and time periods They range from Scandinavian Stone Age through Buddhist social practices of the first millennium AD Maya warfare and ideology to Aboriginal European encounters in 20th century Australia Per Cornell PhD Ass Prof is currently lecturer at the Department of archaeology University of Gothenburg Cornell has been involved in extensive field work in Latin America and current research topics include settlement archaeology formation processes and social theory Among his recent books are Local Regional Global co edited with Per Stenborg Gotarc 2004
