Cybernetics or Control and Communication in the Animal and the Machine, Reissue of the 1961 second edition Norbert Wiener, 2019-10-08 A classic and influential work that laid the theoretical foundations for information theory and a timely text for contemporary informations theorists and practitioners With the influential book Cybernetics first published in 1948 Norbert Wiener laid the theoretical foundations for the multidisciplinary field of cybernetics the study of controlling the flow of information in systems with feedback loops be they biological mechanical cognitive or social At the core of Wiener s theory is the message information sent and responded to feedback the functionality of a machine organism or society depends on the quality of messages Information corrupted by noise prevents homeostasis or equilibrium And yet Cybernetics is as philosophical as it is technical with the first chapter devoted to Newtonian and Bergsonian time and the philosophical mixed with the technical throughout This book brings the 1961 second edition back into print with new forewords by Doug Hill and Sanjoy Mitter Contemporary readers of Cybernetics will marvel at Wiener s prescience his warnings against noise his disdain for hucksters and gadget worshipers and his view of the mass media as the single greatest anti homeostatic force in society This edition of Cybernetics gives a new generation access to a classic text

Interrogating the Cybernetic Imaginary Sheryl Noreen Hamilton, 1999 This cultural history explores the coming into being of an emergent cultural sensibility of the computer age the cybernetic imaginary Articulated through four events which take place in public discourse the thinking machine the game the future and information the analysis suggests that it is in the immediate postwar period that many of the taken for granted tropes metaphors and assumptions of current cyberculture are presented negotiated and normalized This analysis is conducted in print mass media texts exploring cybernetics computing machines and their interaction in the period of 1944 1959 The material includes popular magazines mass market non fiction fiction and trade journals The thinking machine as a discursive event establishes a fundamental functional equivalence between humans and computing machines permitting indeed requiring the replacement of human mental labour with machines The game rewrites the notion of what it means to be intelligent locating valuable knowledge firmly within a model of rationalism Science and mathematics becomes privileged as the knowledges through which to take decisions in all forms of social organization The event of the future marks the future as a knowable domain and a properly knowable domain marginalizing both the present and the past as relevant to knowledge This confirms a teleological understanding of history notions of technological progress and the valuation of speed Finally information is redefined in this period as the successful transfer of valuable information rather than about meaning Communication is thus reduced to a functional quantitative measurement Information is offered as a universal measure of knowledge and information theory becomes a universal methodology Yet none of these outcomes is preordained when the computing machine is introduced to the American public after World War II It is in the process of their negotiation in the public domain that the cybernetic imaginary is produced The cybernetic imaginary as a set of shared cultural assumptions has significant social power implications for how we understand the computer and our selves to this day it marks our age as a society of control

Cybernetics Or Control and Communication in the Animal and the Machine Norbert Wiener, 1961 It appears impossible for anyone seriously interested in our civilization to ignore this book It is a must book for those in every branch of science in addition economists politicians statesmen and businessmen cannot afford to overlook cybernetics and its tremendous even terrifying implications

Cybernetics and the Origin of Information Raymond Ruyer, 2023-12-19 One of the lost classics of French philosophy Cybernetics and the Origin of Information has never before been published in English Raymond Ruyer who was a major influence on Simondon and Deleuze among others originally wrote this book one of the first critiques of Norbert Wiener s cybernetics program in 1954 At once critical and analytical it is a deep exploration of information theory cybernetics and the philosophical assumptions and implications of both Among the themes covered in the book are the main types of information machines information s relationship to behavior and communication and the nature of entropy and time in cybernetics This translation contributes to understanding the rich history of cybernetics and the philosophy of information A true hidden gem in the history of philosophical thought this text will help readers understand foundational criticisms of ideas that have led to artificial intelligence For the Love of Cybernetics Jocelyn Chapman, 2020-05-21 For the Love of Cybernetics Personal Narratives by Cyberneticians is a collection of personal accounts that offer unique insights into cybernetics via the personal journeys of nine individuals For the authors in this collection cybernetics is not their area of interest it is how they think about what they do and it is their practice Ray Ison Bruce Clarke Frank Galuzska Paul Pangaro Klaus Krippendorff Peter Tuddenham Lucas Pawlik Bernard Scott and Jocelyn Chapman differ in their lineage emphasis and engagement with cybernetics What they have in common is that they share the belief that cybernetics is not a tool to apply here and there but a unifying way of seeing the world that transforms how we behave thus increasing possibilities for positive systemic change This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal World Futures Cybernetics, Simulation, and Conflict Resolution American Society for Cybernetics, 1971

Cybernetics D.A Novikov, 2015-12-09 This book is a concise navigator across the history of cybernetics its state of the art and prospects The evolution of cybernetics from N Wiener to the present day and the reasons of its ups and downs are presented The correlation of cybernetics with the philosophy and methodology of control as well as with system theory and systems analysis is clearly demonstrated The book presents a detailed analysis focusing on the modern trends of research in cybernetics A new development stage of cybernetics the so called cybernetics 2.0 is discussed as a science on general regularities of systems organization and control The author substantiates the topicality of elaborating a new branch of cybernetics i.e. organization theory which studies an organization as a property process and system The book is intended for theoreticians and practitioners as well as for students postgraduates and doctoral candidates In the first place the target audience includes tutors and lecturers preparing courses on cybernetics control theory and systems science

The Cybernetic Society Ralph Parkman, 2013-09-24 The Cybernetic Society brings together facts and ideas which help give perspective to man's role in a cybernetic society Emphasizing the transforming power of technological innovation and the ties between technology and society the book explores the impact of industrialization on the working man systems design for social systems the relevance of cybernetics and machine translation and self-reproducing machines The effects of technology on government education and science and the arts are also given consideration This volume consists of 10 chapters and begins with an introduction to the transforming power of technology before turning to the nature and significance of important technological innovations with some emphasis on the role of the computer and their connection to a variety of human concerns many of which are strongly rooted in the history of technology and science Emphasis is placed on energy and its transformation organization or synchronization and information Attention then shifts to the problems of industrial job displacement unemployment or underemployment and poverty from the time of the first Industrial Revolution to the present cybernated era Some of the economic and political solutions which have been proposed are highlighted The chapters that follow focus on how technology contributes to patterns of social change the potential of cybernetics to elucidate relationships between organic and inorganic systems and the uniqueness of the human mind versus intelligent machines The book concludes with a look at the futurists and their forecasting activities This book will be useful to students from all disciplines

Current Topics in Cybernetics and Systems J. Rose, 2012-12-06 This book is a record of the contents of the papers accepted by the Congress Committee for presentation at the Fourth International Congress of Cybernetics and

Systems Amsterdam The Netherlands 21-25 August 1978 Two hundred and forty five papers from authors from thirty three countries of all the five continents are included The papers are presented in an abridged form in order to highlight the main themes and produce a book that is both readable and relatively inexpensive It was felt that after the publication of the weighty and rather costly form of the Proceedings of the Third International Congress of Cybernetics and Systems held in Bucharest Romania in 1975 Modern Trends in Cybernetics and Systems eds Rose and Bilciu W O G S c and Springer Verlag 1977 3 volumes about 3500 pages 150 an abridged but comprehensive version would be more acceptable to readers It is worth noting that the full names and addresses of authors are given for each paper and requests to authors for more information and even full scale papers would produce a positive response As a matter of interest each paper carries in addition brief summaries The papers are arranged in each section or symposium in the alphabetical order of authors names this is not necessarily the order of presentation at the Congress

Cybernetics for the Social Sciences Bernard Scott, 2021-05-25 Bernard Scott has met a long felt need by authoring a book that shows the relevance of cybernetics for the social sciences including psychology sociology and anthropology Scott provides user friendly descriptions of the core concepts of cybernetics with examples of how they can be used in the social sciences He explains how cybernetics functions as a transdiscipline that unifies other disciplines and a metadiscipline that provides insights about how other disciplines function He provides an account of how cybernetics emerged as a distinct field following interdisciplinary meetings in the 1940s convened to explore feedback and circular causality in biological and social systems He also recounts how encountering cybernetics transformed his thinking and his understanding of life in general

Cybernetics and the Origin of Information Raymond Ruyer, 2023-12-19 One of the lost classics of French philosophy Cybernetics and the Origin of Information has never before been published in English Raymond Ruyer who was a major influence on Simondon and Deleuze among others originally wrote this book one of the first critiques of Norbert Wiener's cybernetics program in 1954 At once critical and analytical it is a deep exploration of information theory cybernetics and the philosophical assumptions and implications of both Among the themes covered in the book are the main types of information machines information's relationship to behavior and communication and the nature of entropy and time in cybernetics This translation contributes to understanding the rich history of cybernetics and the philosophy of information A true hidden gem in the history of philosophical thought this text will help readers understand foundational criticisms of ideas that have led to artificial intelligence

Cybernetics Norbert Wiener Scan, 2025-01-30 Cybernetics Or the Control and Communication in the Animal and the Machine by Norbert Wiener is a seminal work that laid the foundation for the field of cybernetics This book is widely regarded as one of the most influential contributions to the study of systems communication and control mechanisms across biological mechanical and computational domains The book is dense with mathematical formulations and examples but also includes conceptual discussions accessible to non specialists It begins with an introduction to the core principles and gradually moves into detailed applications and implications In an era where systems thinking and artificial intelligence are central to innovation Cybernetics remains a cornerstone for understanding how systems operate communicate and adapt Its emphasis on feedback loops and interdisciplinary approaches continues to resonate in both theoretical and practical contexts
