Myths and Realities of Crime and Justice Steven E. Barkan,George J. Bryjak,2013-07-19 An Engaging and Accessible Overview of Crime and Justice in America For all their interest in crime most Americans know very little about the reality of crime and the criminal justice system in the United States and most of what Americans do know is a loose collection of accumulated truths half truths and outright fallacies Myths and Realities of Crime and Justice What Every American Should Know Second Edition provides a concise but thorough overview of criminal behavior crime and the criminal justice system in the United States Using up to date social science research to debunk many of the beliefs Americans hold about crime the book examines key topics such as serial killers and mass murders gun violence criminal victimization identity theft policing and police corruption plea bargaining jury nullification wrongful convictions the death penalty and the CSI Effect The fully revised and updated second edition of this popular text includes the most recent crime and criminal justice data and covers several recent high profile crimes including the Newtown shooting the Jerry Sandusky case and the Trayvon Martin case It also includes new sections on recent trends in crime rates street gangs and hate crimes Ideally suited for students in criminal justice programs as well as professionals who work within or in tandem with the criminal justice system Myths and Realities of Crime and Justice What Every American Should Know Second Edition is a thorough engaging and highly relevant portrait of crime and justice in America

Comparative Decision Making Philip H. Crowley, Thomas R. Zentall, 2013-01-30 Decision making cuts across most areas of intellectual enquiry and academic endeavor The classical view of individual human thinkers choosing among options remains important and instructive but the contributors to this volume broaden this perspective to characterize the decision making behavior of groups non human organisms and even non living objects and mathematical constructs A diverse array of methods is brought to bear mathematical computational subjective neurobiological evolutionary and cultural We can often identify best or optimal decisions and decision making processes but observed responses may deviate markedly from these to a large extent because the environment in which decisions must be made is constantly changing Moreover decision making can be highly constrained by institutions natural and social context and capabilities Studies of the mechanisms underlying decisions by humans and other organisms are just beginning to gain traction and shape our thinking Though decision making has fundamental similarities across the diverse array of entities considered to be making them there are large differences of degree if not kind that relate to the question of human uniqueness From this survey of views and approaches we converge on a tentative agenda for accelerating development of a new field that includes advancing the dialog between the sciences and the humanities developing a defensible classification scheme for decision making and decision makers addressing the role of morality and justice and moving advances into applications the rapidly developing field of decision support
