Reimagining Justice, Human Rights and Leadership in Africa Everisto Benyera, 2019-08-08 Failed attempts in Africa to develop democratised and instil virtues of a just state and society which promote benevolent leadership and advance political and economic rights and freedoms call for a new imagination By exploring a wide range of issues concerning justice human rights and leadership this book makes two major contributions to the extant literature in each of these areas Firstly as a project in decoloniality it constitutes an epistemic break from mainstream logics and approaches to understanding state society and development in Africa presenting an approach that is filtered through a Euro American lens that reifies the hegemony of a particular spatio temporality In other words it emphasises the importance of situatedness by thinking from rather than about or with Africa And secondly it addresses a fundamental shortcoming in decolonial thought which is often criticised for rejecting western paradigms of thought without providing viable alternatives The issues covered include state failure in Africa the geopolitics of US and NATO military interventions on the continent individual states responses to international law indigenous moral political leadership authentic inclusion of marginalised voices in development practice an endogenous approach to environmental ethics and a spiritualist reflection on the need for Africa to chart her own course to political social and economic redemption By searching for alternative paths to justice human rights and leadership this book represents an effort to actualise the core vision of the African Renaissance to find African solutions for African problems
