Early Modern Exchanges Helen Hackett, 2016-03-09 Marcus Gheeraerts's portrait of a Persian lady probably in fact an English lady in masquing costume exemplifies the hybridity of early modern English culture. Her surrounding landscape and the embroidery on her gown are typically English but her head dress and slippers are decidedly exotic; the inscriptions beside her are Latin and her creator was an incomer artist. She is emblematic of the early modern culture of exchange both between England and its neighbours and between Europe and the wider world. This volume presents fresh research into such early modern exchanges exploring how new identities, subjectivities and artefacts were forged in dialogues and encounters between diverse cultures, nations and language communities. The early modern period was a time of creative interactions between cultures and disciplines and accordingly this is a multidisciplinary volume drawing together international experts in literature, history, modern and ancient languages and art history. It understands cultural exchange as encompassing both the geographical mobilities of travel and trade and the transmission of ideas across borders and between languages as enabled by the new technology of print. Sites of exchange were located not only in distant and unfamiliar lands but also in the bookseller's shop and the scholar's study. The volume also explores the productive and complex dialogues between early modern culture and the classical past. The types of exchanges discussed include the linguistic transactions of translation and imitation, interactions between cultural elites such as monarchs, courtiers and diplomats and the catalytic influences of particularly mobile or outward-looking individuals and groups. Ranging from the neo-Latin poetry of an English author to the plays of a nun in seventeenth-century New Spain, from royal portraits exchanged in diplomatic negotiations to travelling companions in the Ottoman Empire, the volume sheds new light.

The culture of early modern England and Europe was richly hybrid, forged through interactions between diverse nations and language communities and through new encounters with the wider world beyond Europe. Ranging from the neo-Latin poetry of an English author to the Spanish plays of a nun in the New World, from royal portraits exchanged in diplomatic negotiations to travelling companions in the Ottoman Empire, this multidisciplinary volume presents exciting new research on early modern exchanges.

Sanchez, 2017-05-15 Toward the end of the fifteenth century the Habsburg family began to rely on dynastic marriage to unite an array of territories eventually creating an empire as had not been seen in Europe since the Romans Other European rulers followed the Habsburgs lead in forging ties through dynastic marriages Because of these marriages many more aristocrats especially women left their homelands to reside elsewhere Until now historians have viewed these unions from a primarily political viewpoint and have paid scant attention to the personal dimensions of these relocations Separated from their family and thrust into a strange new land in which language attire religion food and cultural practices were often different these young aristocrats were forced to conform to new customs or adapt their own customs to a new cultural setting Early Modern Dynastic Marriages and Cultural Transfer examines these marriages as important agents of cultural transfer emphasizing how marriages could lead to the creation of a cosmopolitan culture common to the elites of Europe These essays focus on the personal and domestic dimensions of early modern European court life examining such areas as women's devotional practices fashion patronage and culinary traditions

Hoerder, Christiane Harzig, Adrian Shubert, 2003-09-01 While multicultural composition of nations has become a catchword in public debates few educators not to speak of the general public realize that cultural interaction was the rule throughout history Starting with the Islam Christian Jewish Mediterranean world of the early modern period this volume moves to the empires of the 18th and 19th centuries and the African Diaspora of the Black Atlantic It ends with questioning assumptions about citizenship and underlying homogeneous received cultures through the analysis of the changes in various literatures This volume clearly shows that the life worlds of settled as well as migrant populations in the past were characterized by cultural change and exchange whether conflictual or peaceful Societies reflected on such change in their literatures as well as in their concepts of citizenship
