Large technological systems such as seaports, nuclear power stations, wind farms, and natural gas extraction provide vital functions for society. And yet, these large technological systems have an impact on different stakeholder groups in both positive and negative ways. This book defines responsible innovation and describes how both the innovation process and the resulting innovation outcome can be designed, created, and implemented in a way that respects the various stakeholder groups involved and affected by the system. Taking a case-based approach, a number of large technological systems are profiled, including hydraulic engineering, nuclear energy, smart metering, and wind power. The values of each of the stakeholder groups and the costs and benefits of the systems presented are analysed. The book concludes by combining these insights to provide a framework for how responsible innovation of large technological systems can be implemented in practice. The book will be of particular interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students and researchers in technology and innovation management and corporate governance, CSR, and business ethics. Responsible Innovation 1 Jeroen van den Hoven, Neelke Doorn, Tsjalling Swierstra, Bert-Jaap Koops, Henny Romijn, 2014-07-03. This book addresses the methodological issues involved in responsible innovation and provides an overview of recent applications of multidisciplinary research. Responsible innovation involves research into the ethical and societal aspects of new technologies, e.g., ICT, nanotechnology, biotechnology, and brain sciences, and of changes in technological systems, e.g., energy, transport, agriculture, and water. This research is highly multidisciplinary. It involves close collaboration between researchers in such diverse fields as ethics, social science, law, economics, applied science, engineering, as well as innovative design, oriented and policy relevant. Although there is a trend to engage ethicists and social scientists early in technology development, most literature in the field of Technology Assessment or Ethics of Technology is still aimed at one discipline, whereas this book incorporates different approaches and to discuss experiences, lessons, and more general theoretical issues. Social Economy Science Gorgi Krlev, Dominika Wruk, Giulio Pasi, Marika Bernhard, 2025-05-15. This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 International licence.
