A Companion to François Truffaut Dudley Andrew, Anne Gillain, 2013-04-22 A Companion to François Truffaut An unprecedented critical tribute to the director who in France wound up becoming the most controversial figure of the New Wave he helped found Raymond Bellour Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique This exciting collection breaks through the widely held critical view that Truffaut abandoned the iconoclasm of his early work for an academicism he had consistently railed against in his own film criticism Indeed if fever and fire were Truffaut's most consistent motifs the essays in this collection live up to his lifelong burning passion for the cinema Written by world famous scholars the essays exhaustively explore the themes and styles of the films as well as Truffaut's relationships to André Bazin Alfred Hitchcock and the directors of the New Wave his ground breaking and controversial film criticism and his position in the complex politics of French cultural life from the Popular Front to 1968 and after Angelo Restivo Georgia State University

Although the New Wave one of the most influential aesthetic revolutions in the history of cinema might not have existed without him François Truffaut has largely been ignored by film scholars since his death almost thirty years ago As an innovative theoretician an influential critic and a celebrated filmmaker Truffaut formulated disseminated and illustrated the ideals of the New Wave with exceptional energy and distinction Yet no book in recent years has focused on Truffaut's value and his overall contribution to cinema deserves to be redefined not only to reinstate him in his proper place but to let us rethink how cinema developed during his lifetime In this new Companion thirty four original essays by leading film scholars offer new readings of individual films and original perspectives on the filmmaker's background influences and consequence Hugely influential around the globe Truffaut is assessed by international contributors who delve into the unique quality of his narratives and establish the depth of his distinctively styled work An extended interview with French filmmaker Arnaud Desplechin tracks Truffaut's controversial stature within French cinema and vividly identifies how he thinks and works as a director adding an irreplaceable perspective to this essential volume

Jules and Jim François Truffaut, 1988-01-01. The French New Wave Peter Graham, Ginette Vincendeau, 2022-09-08. The French New Wave is an essential anthology of writings by and about the critics and filmmakers of this revolutionary cinematic movement which has had a radical impact on film practice and the way we think and write about film. The volume includes foundational writings such as François Truffaut's A Certain Tendency in French Cinema and André Bazin's La Politique des auteurs as well as writings by Jean-Luc Godard, Claude Chabrol and Alexandre Astruc. This new edition now represents writings by and about women critics and film makers including important articles by the critics Evelyne Sullerot Michele Firk and Fran oise Aude addressing issues of gender and representation as well as considering New Wave films in the context of contemporary political events notably France s colonialist war on the Algerian independence movement To accompany the case study of Godard s bout de souffle the new edition includes a case study of the critical reception of two films by Agn s Varda La Pointe Courte and Cl o de 5 7 The articles have been specially translated for the volume by Peter Graham and some are published for the first time in English These classic writings are accompanied by contextualising introductions by Ginette Vincendeau updated for this new edition to form a unique resource on this key cinematic movement and its practitioners Letters

François Truffaut, 1990 With the characteristic variety of mood and tone evident in his films these letters document the development of Francois Truffaut from rebellious boy to mature film maker in the last years of his life They reveal the warmth humanity idealism and sharp wit of a man whose work was his lifelong passion His correspondents include other celebrated film makers such as Alfred Hitchcock and Louis Malle and there is also a first hand account of his argument and subsequent break with Jean Luc Godard Cross-channel Perspectives

Leila Wimmer, 2009 This book is the first ever full length study of the reception of British cinema in post war France challenging Fran ois Truffaut s infamous dismissal of British cinema as a contradiction in terms a comment which has been and still is widely reproduced yet has until now remained critically unexplored A historical account the book gathers together well known episodes such as Cahiers du cin ma in the 1950s and critics Andr Bazin Fran ois Truffaut Jean Luc Godard along with original new material and thus throws new light on a topic which given the influential nature of French film criticism and cinephilia continues to be at the core of film culture
