Early Islamic Syria Debates In Archaeology:

Early Islamic Syria Alan Walmsley, 2013-11-20 After more than a century of neglect a profound revolution is occurring in the way archaeology addresses and interprets developments in the social history of early Islamic Syria Palestine This concise book offers an innovative assessment of social and economic developments in Syria Palestine shortly before and in the two centuries after the Islamic expansion the later sixth to the early ninth century AD drawing on a wide range of new evidence from recent archaeological work Alan Walmsley challenges conventional explanations for social change with the arrival of Islam arguing for considerable cultural and economic continuity rather than devastation and unrelenting decline Much new and increasingly non elite architectural evidence and an ever growing corpus of material culture indicate that Syria Palestine entered a new age of social richness in the early Islamic period even if the gains were chronologically and regionally uneven

Early Islamic Syria A. Walmsley, 2007 A study of how archaeology interprets developments in the social history of Islamic Syria and the implications to understanding the ever growing body of archaeological evidence      Ceramics in Transition: Production and Exchange of Late Byzantine-Early Islamic Pottery in Southern Transjordan and the Negev Elisabeth Holmqvist, 2019-07-31 This book focuses on the utilitarian ceramic traditions during the socio political transition from the late Byzantine into the early Islamic Umayyad and Abbasid periods in southern Transjordan and the Negev Production clusters manufacturing techniques distribution patterns and material links between communities are analysed      Pushing Sacred Boundaries in Early Judaism and the Ancient Mediterranean , 2023-06-05 This volume celebrates Jodi Magness's long and illustrious career as a scholar of archaeology early Judaism and the ancient Mediterranean world It brings together a series of studies on history archaeology and society in Roman Byzantine and Islamic Palestine Qumran and the Dead Sea Scrolls and ancient synagogues written by her colleagues students and friends The collected essays reflect the extraordinary range of historical and archaeological issues which Magness has elucidated through her outstanding work as well as make significant contributions to their respective fields Some articles publish archaeological data for the first time others re evaluate traditional assumptions within new methodological or theoretical frameworks and others proffer innovative interpretations of old data      Early Islamic Syria Alan Walmsley, 2007 A study of how archaeology interprets developments in the social history of Islamic Syria and the implications to understanding the ever growing body of archaeological evidence      Remembering and Forgetting the Ancient City Javier Martínez Jiménez, Sam Ottewill-Soulsby, 2022-03-24 The Greco Roman world is identified in the modern mind by its cities This includes both specific places such as Athens and Rome but also an instantly recognizable style of urbanism wrought in marble and lived in by teeming tunic clad crowds Selective and misleading this vision may be but it speaks to the continuing importance these ancient cities have had in the centuries that followed and the extent to which they define the period in subsequent memory Although there is much that is mysterious about them the cities of the Roman Mediterranean are for the most part historically known That the names and pasts of these cities remain known to us is the product of an extraordinary process of remembering and forgetting stretching back to antiquity that took place throughout the former Roman world This volume tackles this subject of the survival and transformation of the ancient city through memory drawing upon the methodological and theoretical lenses of memory studies and resilience theory to view the way the Greco Roman city lived and vanished for the generations that separate the present from antiquity This book analyzes the different ways in which urban communities of the post Antique world have tried to understand and relate to the ancient city on their own terms examining it as a process of forgetting as well as remembering Many aspects of the ancient city were let go as time passed but those elements that survived that were actively remembered have shaped the many understandings of what it was In order to do so this volume assembles specialists in multiple fields to bring their perspectives to bear on the subject through eleven case studies that range from late Antiquity to the mid twentieth century and from the Iberian Peninsula to Iran Through the examination of archaeological remains changing urban layouts and chronicles travel guides and pamphlets they track how the ancient city was made useful or consigned to oblivion

Envisioning Islam Michael Philip Penn, 2015-06-05 The first Christians to encounter Islam were not Latin speakers from the western Mediterranean or Greek speakers from Constantinople but Mesopotamian Christians who spoke the Aramaic dialect of Syriac Under Muslim rule from the seventh century onward Syriac Christians wrote the most extensive descriptions extant of early Islam Seldom translated and often omitted from modern historical reconstructions this vast body of texts reveals a complicated and evolving range of religious and cultural exchanges that took place from the seventh to the ninth century The first book length analysis of these earliest encounters Envisioning Islam highlights the ways these neglected texts challenge the modern scholarly narrative of early Muslim conquests rulers and religious practice Examining Syriac sources including letters theological tracts scientific treatises and histories Michael Philip Penn reveals a culture of substantial interreligious interaction in which the categorical boundaries between Christianity and Islam were more ambiguous than distinct The diversity of ancient Syriac images of Islam he demonstrates revolutionizes our understanding of the early Islamic world and challenges widespread cultural assumptions about the history of exclusively hostile Christian Muslim relations

Caliphs and Merchants Fanny Bessard, 2020 The foundation of the Muslim world from 700 to 950 was a seminal period in history when the Near East enjoyed an age of political unity prosperity and cultural dominance This volume offers new insights into the origins of the economic success of the early Islamic Caliphate drawing instructive parallels within the contemporary Eurasian context

Archaeology and the Pan-European Romanesque T. O'Keefe, 2007-09-13 Romanesque is the style name given to the art and architecture of Europe in the eleventh and twelfth centuries First used in the early nineteenth century to express the perceived indebtedness of the visual artistic and architectural cultures of this period to their Classical antecedents the term has survived two centuries of increasingly sophisticated readings of the relevant medieval buildings and objet d art The study of Romanesque as a stylistic phenomenon is now almost exclusively the preserve of art historians particularly in the English speaking world Here the Romanesque is subjected to a long overdue theoretically informed archaeological inquiry The ideological foundations and epistemological boundaries of Romanesque scholarship are critiqued and the constructs of Romanesque and Europe are deconstructed and alternative strategies for interpreting Romanesque s constituent material are mapped out This book should at the very least illuminate the need for debate Shaky Ground Elizabeth Marlowe, 2013-10-10 The recent crisis in the world of antiquities collecting has prompted scholars and the general public to pay more attention than ever before to the archaeological findspots and collecting histories of ancient artworks This new scrutiny is applied to works currently on the market as well as to those acquired since and despite the 1970 UNESCO Convention which aimed to prevent the trafficking in cultural property When it comes to famous works that have been in major museums for many generations however the matter of their origins is rarely considered Canonical pieces like the Barberini Togatus or the Fonseca bust of a Flavian lady appear in many scholarly studies and virtually every textbook on Roman art But we have no more certainty about these works archaeological contexts than we do about those that surface on the market today This book argues that the current legal and ethical debates over looting ownership and cultural property have distracted us from the epistemological problems inherent in all ostensibly ancient artworks lacking a known findspot problems that should be of great concern to those who seek to understand the past through its material remains Dirāsāt Fī Tārīkh Wa-āthār Al-Urdun , 2008 Contains papers presented at the International Conferences on the History and Archaeology of Jordan

Materials Issues in Art and Archaeology , 1995 Palmyra after Zenobia AD 273-750 Emanuele E.

Intagliata, 2018-05-16 This book casts light on a much neglected phase of the UNESCO world heritage site of Palmyra namely the period between the fall of the Palmyrene Empire AD 272 and the end of the Umayyad dominion AD 750 The goal of the book is to fill a substantial hole in modern scholarship the late antique and early Islamic history of the city still has to be written In late antiquity Palmyra remained a thriving provincial city whose existence was assured by its newly acquired role of stronghold along the eastern frontier Palmyra maintained a prominent religious role as one of the earliest bishoprics in central Syria and in early Islam as the political center of the powerful Banu Kalnb tribe Post Roman Palmyra city and setting provide the focus of this book Analysis and publication of evidence for post Roman housing enables a study of the city s urban life including the private residential buildings in the sanctuary of Ba alshamin A systematic survey is presented of the archaeological and literary evidence for the religious life of the city in Late Antiquity and Early Islam The city s defenses provide another focus After a discussion of the garrison quartered in Palmyra Diocletian s military fortress and the city walls are investigated with photographic and archaeological evidence used to discuss chronology and building techniques The book concludes with a synthetic account of archaeological and written material providing a comprehensive history of the settlement from its origins to the fall of Marwan II in 750 AD Materials Issues in Art and Archaeology IV Pamela B.

Vandiver,1995      Pottery and Social Dynamics in the Mediterranean and Beyond in Medieval and Post-medieval Times John L. Bintliff,Marta Caroscio,2013 The papers collected here were originally given at a symposium during the European Archaeology Conference at Lake Garda Italy in 2009 They have been revised and updated for this volume Medieval and Post Medieval ceramic studies have now for some decades been in the forefront of the archaeology of those periods showing not only fascinating interactions with historical sources in which both disciplines contribute novel information for each other but also constantly exhibiting original methods and theories for the wider benefit of ceramology and archaeology in general

Minerva ,2008      Image and Response in Early Europe Peter S. Wells,2008-05-29 Did people in the Iron Age see their bronze figurines and sculpted stones differently from the way we see them today How can we approach the problem of determining how they saw things How different was their experience viewing these objects in the course of their use from ours as we look at them in museum cases or through photographs in books Recent research in cognitive neuroscience and cognitive psychology forms the theoretical basis for a new approach to understanding the visual basis of communication in early Europe The focus is on societies from the Early Iron Age to the early medieval period in temperate Europe at the time that traditions of writing were gradually being adopted in this part of the world Following review of the most relevant results of new experiments and observations in those sciences Peter S Wells examines the visual aspects of the archaeological evidence to investigate the role that visuality the visual quality of things played in the expression of the self in interaction between members of social groups in ritual activity and in the creation and experience of cultural landscapes      Religious Conflict from Early Christianity to the Rise of Islam Wendy Mayer,Bronwen Neil,2013 The essays in this volume engage a variety of inter and intra religious conflicts ranging from the first to eighth centuries CE Given the political and religious tensions in the world today this volume is well positioned to find relevance and meaning in societies still grappling with the monotheistic religions of Judaism Christianity and Islam      Arab-Byzantine Relations in Early Islamic Times Michael Bonner,Michael David Bonner,2004 Surrounded on all sides by hostile nations and peoples Islam began life as a religion in a wary manner This collection begins and ends with war and considers the uneasy relationship between the Arabs and the Byzantine civilization from which they learned a great deal during uneasy periods of peace      Museums and the Construction of Disciplines Christopher Whitehead,2009-06-11 Examining the importance of the museum in the constitution and differentiation of the disciplines of archaeology and art history in the 19th century this text also considers its continued intellectual legacy for the management and presentation of the past
